Gulati Institute of Finance and Taxation

Gulati Institute of Finance and Taxation (GIFT), formerly Centre for Taxation studies (CTS) established in 1992, is an autonomous institution of Government of Kerala. In 2009, with the financial support from Government of India, Government of Kerala upgraded and renamed CTS as GIFT in memory of the renowned economist late Professor I.S. Gulati, who was closely associated with the Government of Kerala notably as Vice-chairperson, Kerala State Planning Board.

The chairperson, the Institute's Governing Body is Shri. KN Balagopal, Hon'ble Finance Minister of Kerala and its members include senior administrators from State and Central Government, eminent economists, noted legal and management experts.

Affiliated to the Cochin University of Science and Technology for its PhD Program, GIFT is engaged in teaching, training, consultancy and research on issues related to Public Finance, Taxation, Law, Accounting, Management and Governance. While its empirically based and theoretically informed research serves an input for policy making at the regional and national level, its consultancy services are availed by various government departments, public enterprises and corporates.

GIFT influences policy formulation, apart from its research, by serving as a platform for deliberating on issues of contemporary relevance at the national and regional level by bringing together different stakeholders. The institute brings out its research output in the form of discussion papers/working papers, monographs and research reports. The monthly law journal - Kerala Tax Reporter (KTR) published since the inception of the institute (1992) is a much-acclaimed journal by jurists, tax practitioners and legal experts. Another quarterly journal 'Kerala Economy' focuses on issues of current relevance that include but not limited to taxation, state finances, price trends, employment trends and sectoral issues.

The institute has been offering a diploma program, Post Graduate Diploma in Taxation (PGDT), since 1993 which enabled the diploma holders to enrol as Sales Tax/Value Added Tax Practitioners in Kerala. In 2004 another program, Diploma in Sales Taxation (DST), was launched to equip small traders, entrepreneurs and accountants with practical knowledge in the areas of Sales Tax/VAT & Accounting.

2.1 Introduction

With the introduction of Goods and Services Tax (GST) in India, finance and taxation are two areas that offer immense career opportunities both in public and private sector in the areas of law, accounting and management. Taking this in view, GIFT launched the Post Graduate Diploma in Goods and Services Taxation (PGD-GST) in 2018. The program is designed to cater to the ever-growing demand from trade and industry for competent and skilled GST professionals like tax practitioners, accountants, and legal consultants. Unlike conventional academic courses offered by Universities, PGD-GST focuses on imparting practical skills through training the learners on all aspects of GST laws, procedures & accounting. This course enables the participants to acquire professional skills in GST which have high demand in trade and industry.

2.2 Course Vision

The PGD-GST program envisages to help transforming GST into 'Good and Simple Tax' for all concerned as articulated by the Government of India and State Governments by creating a highly accomplished and accountable tax professionals who help industry and business to complying with the tax system while ensuring the timely collection of the tax by the government.

2.3 Duration

The Course PGD-GST is of one-year duration and will be imparted through training programme of 150 hours (for details refer 2.4) covering theoretical and practical aspects of GST. This curriculum of the course consists of five papers (for syllabus refer 4) and the medium of instruction and examination will be English.

2.4 150-Hours Training Programme

The 150 hours training programmes will be conducted through class rooms/ online/ hybrid mode to accommodate employed persons and students who pursue other courses.

The training will consist of theoretical and practical sessions to equip the students to understand and comply with various provisions in the CGST/SGST/IGST Acts, Rules & Forms and Accounting. A minimum attendance of 80 per cent is mandatory to complete the training programme. Training certificate will be issued to the students only on completion of 150 hours of training programme.
